

Janusz Hochleitner, Development Conditions of Local Activity Groups in the Warmian Masurian Voivodship

Summary

The article is focused on presenting the potential of local action groups in the extent of widely understood social development. The undertaken considerations refer to cultural conditions, which seem to be essential for the prosperity of local government structures. They also present the tourism resources as a great advantage and valor of the Warmia and Masury Voivodship.